GREENSBORO TELEGRAM.

VOL. VII. NO. 55. GREENSBORO, N. C., TUESDAY, OCTOBER 2, 1900. Price Five Cents

PROGRESSING SATISFACTORILY,

IS THE SETTLEMENT OF THE STRIKE

No Serious Hitch Caused by Refusal of Men to Accept the Advance Offered—President Mitchell Says the Strike is Complete—The Operators are Defiant and Have Sent a Committee to New York to Protest Against Concessions.

By Wire to The Telegram.

New York. October 2. — Those in charge of the strike settlement negotiations say they are progressing as satisfactorily as could be expected, and the refusal of the men to accept what has been offered by individual companies does not cause a serious hitch.

President Mitchell says the strike is complete and there will be no resumption of work without there be first a convention representing every colliery. Miners now declare that their union must be recognized.

The Lehigh Valley Coal Company has offered to pay its employes a net increase of ten per cent. in wages and offers to reduce the price of powder to $1.25 per keg. Otherwise the situation is unchanged.

MINE OWNERS COME TO TERMS.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Oct. 1.—The coal operators of the Wyoming, Lackawanna and Lehigh Valley regions held an important meeting in this city this afternoon and decided to offer the miners an increase of 10 per cent. in wages and also to reduce the cost of powder to the miners from $2.75 to $1.50 per keg.

The whole situation was thoroughly discussed. The powder question was the chief subject of debate, and next came the recognition of the union. So far as can be learned, none of the operators were in favor of recognizing the union in any way.

OPERATORS DEFIANT.

Scranton, Pa., Oct. 2.—The independent operators are defiant. A committee left for New York early this morning and will today see the presidents of the coal roads and protest against being coerced into granting higher wages and other concessions, which they declare means their undoing, unless coal carrying railroads give them better rates.

FEDERAL COURT AT WORK.

Judge Boyd Delivers a Fine Charge to the Grand Jury—Business Moving Briskly.

Federal Court convened at 10 o'clock this morning and got down immediately to business. After the grand jury, of which Mr. Junius H. Harden, of Alamance county, was made foreman, had been sworn and empanelled, Judge Boyd delivered his charge, which was remarkable for covering a variety of points in a clear and concise manner. The charge was not lengthy, but all the material points of law with which the grand jurors have to deal was touched upon and their duties made plain. The attorneys who heard it speak of it in the highest terms.

The indications are that the usual custom of killing a great deal of time will not go at this term of court. When the grand jury had retired a few motions were disposed of, and before noon District Attorney Holton was working on his docket.

Notwithstanding the fact that this is his first term, Judge Boyd handles the business of the court as if he were a veteran.

A FINE OPENING.

The Agricultural and Mechanical College Has More Students Than at This Time Last Year.

The Agricultural and Mechanical College for the colored race had a most gratifying opening yesterday, the attendance being twice that of last year's opening. More of the old students are coming in much earlier than formerly, while the new students who have arrived give evidence of much better preparation than those who have entered in previous years.

The outlook for the year is very auspicious, and President Dudley and his faculty are greatly encouraged.

ARMISTICE RESULTS IN NOTHING.

Erasmus Took Advantage of the Opportunity to Drive His Cattle North.

By Wire to The Telegram.

Pretoria, Oct. 2,—The armistice of five days, which Commandant Erasmus requested Gen. Paget to grant on the plea that he wished to cofirm reports of the collapse of the Boer army prior to surrendering, will result in nothing, except in having provided him an opportunity for driving his cattle north to Blatersburg plateau. It is estimated that there are fifty thousand head of cattle along the Olifantis river, and a thousand more at Bussveld.

Lord Roberts will review the City of London Imperial Volunteers tomorrow prior to leaving for home.

A Steamer Sunk.

By Wire to The Telegram.

Philadelphia, October 1.—The British steamer Eagle Point reports that it yesterday, collided with the British steamer Bierle. The latter sank and the Eagle Point took off all hands and brought them here.

Churchill Elected to Parliament.

By Wire to The Telegram.

London, Oct. 2.—The official figures in the parliamentary election in the Oldham district give Winston Spencer Churchill 12,931 votes, insuring his election over his liberal opponent, Walter Runciman.

Normal Students Arriving.

The dormitories of the State Normal and Industrial College were opened to students at noon today. The young ladies began to arrive on the noon trains from all directions. The Normal students always come in a bunch, and President McIver expects to have 350 in attendance by tomorrow midnight, some coming on every train between now and that time. The college opens Thursday.

No Entry Fee for Exhibits.

In some quarters an erroneous impression prevails to the effect that an entry fee will be charged for exhibits of agricultural products, cattle, etc., at the Fair next week. This may have the effect of keeping out some exhibits. The management is very anxious to secure full exhibits of everything grown in the county, as well as cattle and stock, dairy products, etc.

Off to the War.

The Greensboro recruiting station sent off the following newly enlisted men last night:

John W. Gordon, of Madison, for Fort Fremont, S. C.; Neil H. Arnett, of Hope Mills, and William S. Faircloth, of Bass, for Columbus Barracks, Ohio. The two latter will join a regiment for the Philippines.

The Elks Take Danville.

A good portion of the Greensboro Elks went over to Danville this morning to participate in the carnival. They took along the Gate City Band to furnish music and add to the gayety of the occasion. It was a jolly crowd that filled the Elks' special car attached to the northbound local.

Rents Increased.

The tenants of the Benbow property on South Elm, from Bendheim's store to the new hotel building, have been notified of an increase in rents from 60 to 150 per cent. This is quite a jump and some of the tenants are looking for new quarters.

An English Tobacconist Here.

Mr. H. C. Haas, a prominent tobacconist of London, was on our tobacco sales today, the guests of Bray Brothers. We are glad to have him with us and hope he will be favorably impressed with our city and tobacco market.

The Day of Atonement.

Tomorrow is the Hebrew Day of Atonement. It will be observed by the people of that faith throughout the world, in fasting and prayer. The stores of Hebrew merchants in Greensboro will be closed.

EUROPEAN POWERS IN ACCORD

TO SETTLE THE CHINESE QUESTION

Governments of London, Paris, Berlin and St. Petersburg Have Agreed to Settle According to Delcassee—Proposal Favors Immediate Opening of Negotiations—Li Hung Chang to Confer With the Russian Minister—A Month to Move American Troops.

By Wire to The Telegram.

Paris, October 2 — It is officially stated here that the governments of London, Paris, Berlin and St. Petersburg are fully in accord on the question of the Chinese settlement along the lines proposed by Delcassee. The proposal favors the plan of negotiations with the Chinese being opened immediately, though admitting the necessity of satisfaction for the anti-foreign outbreak, and advocates permanent prohibition of the transportation of arms and ammunition into China.

LI WILL NOT GO TO PEKIN.

Tien-Tsin, Oct. 2.—Li Hung Chang has abandoned his intention of going to Pekin. He will begin negotiations with the Russian minister on the latter's arrival in Tien-Tsin.

A MONTH TO MOVE.

Tien-Tsin, Oct. 2—General Chaffee estimates that it will take a month to get the American troops out of China.

PYTHIANS AT WORK.

Fine Initiation Last Night—An Oyster Supper Complimentary to Visiting Knights.

Greensboro Lodge No. 80, K. of P., had a most pleasant meeting last night. In addition to the routine lodge work, the three degrees of the order were conferred on Mr. T. D. Clegg, who will shortly return to Mexico.

The lodge is steadily growing, the initiation of Mr. Clegg giving it a membership of 153.

A donation of $10 was ordered sent to the Pythians in Galveston, Texas.

It was decided at last night's meeting to serve an oyster supper in the lodge room next Wednesday night, complimentary to the visiting Knights who may be in the city. Committees of arrangements, etc., have been appointed.

To the Bankers' Association.

Messrs. Lee H. Battle, of the City National Bank and A. H. Alderman, of the Greensboro National Bank, left last night for Richmond to attend the annual meeting of the American Bankers' Association. Mr. R. G. Vaughn, of the banking department of the Southern Loan and Trust Company, left at noon today to represent his firm at the meeting.

Blockader Captured.

Revenue officers returned to the city last night with "Tan" Simpson, a blockade distiller who was arrested in Rockingham county. His illegal manufactory of "bug juice" was destroyed by the ruthless hands of the officers.

A FAMOUS LIGHTHOUSE.

Tillamook Rock, at the Mouth of the Columbia River.

The most famous lighthouse on the Pacific coast is that of Tillamook rock, 70 miles south of the mouth of the Columbia river, Oregon. The rock is 92 feet above the sea, yet at the time Mr. Lord made one of his photographs a wave was breaking through a crevasse and hurling its spray higher than the summit. On this day it was too rough for the Columbine's boat to make a landing. Coal for the station had to be hoisted in net slings, and the keeper had to be lowered in a cage or basket and, suspended in midair over the sea, report on the condition of himself and his assistants, as they were short of provisions, most of the supply having been destroyed during a storm.

From the side of the rock a heavy sea at the height of this storm tore off two pieces averaging 63 pounds and hurled them upon the roof of the keeper's dwelling. With the weight of the water these fragments made a hole 26 feet in area in the roof, flooded the building to a depth of over five feet and washed out two walls, throwing three rooms into one, an "improvement" for which the keepers were not especially grateful. Pieces of rock punctured the iron roof in 35 places. Although the focal plane of the lantern is 136 feet above the sea level, 11 panes of glass three feet long and three-eighths of an inch thick were knocked in by pieces of rock which went through the lantern, and the water put out the light. The building has now been raised six feet, and a thick concrete roof has been laid on heavy steel girders.—Chautauquan.

THE BAPTIST REVIVAL.

Services Will Close Friday Night—Mr. Martin Explains Scriptural Points.

Last night Evangelist Martin preached to another large audience at West Washington Street Baptist church. His text was John 3: 14, 15. He made a special effort to show how simple and plain the way of salvation is.

Four made a public profession last night. There were also four Sunday night.

The meetings will close Friday night, so that there remains only three more days.

Mr. Martin during the closing week gives the Bible reading time to answering any questions that may be asked and in explaining any passage of Scripture any one may ask about. He candidly states that he cannot answer all questions, nor explain all scriptures, and when one is sent up that he cannot explain he simply states that he does not know. These questions and answers are proving both helpful and interesting.

THE BEE HIVE'S OPENING.

The Store Thronged With Visitors to the Millinery Department Last Night.

R. G. Fortune & Co.'s brilliantly lighted store was last night the center of attraction for a large number of the women of Greensboro, and not a few of the men. The opening of the firm's splendid millinery department was the occasion. All the latest and most fashionable things in the millinery line were on exhibition, presenting a scene of rare beauty and loveliness.

The large double store was thronged with admiring visitors from early in the evening until 11 o'clock.

The Gate City Band was present and added to the enjoyment of the occasion by rendering splendid and inspiring music.

The opening was a success in every respect, and Mr. Fortune and his expert milliners are to be congratulated on furnishing the public with something new and novel in this line.

THE CITY OWES WATER RENT.

This Said to be the Reason Why the Water Company Borrowed Money to Pay Interest on Bonds.

In the complaint filed by the Guardian Trust and Deposit Company, asking for the appointment of a receiver for the Greensboro Water Supply Company, it is stated that the latter corporation paid the interest on the first mortgage bonds, due August 1st, with borrowed money. This is given as one of the reasons for the appointment of a receiver.

An officer of the Water Company tells The Telegram that, while this is true, it would not have been necessary to borrow the money had the city paid its water rent. He added that the company had been holding warrants against the city for months.

AGAINST SALOONS.

The County Commissioners Requested to Not Grant License.

A representative of the Womans' Christian Temperance Union appeared before the Board of County Commissioners yesterday and asked that no saloons be licensed when the dispensary shall have been abolished.

The commissioners were unable to make any promise for the reason that the present board will not be in office after December 1st. In addition to this, it is, of course, unknown what act the Legislature will pass to take the place of the dispensary law. It is fair to presume, however, that there will be saloons in Greensboro. This may be accepted as a fact.

FIVE AND TEN CENT STORE.

The Kugler Syndicate Will Occupy J. M. Hendrix and Company's Present Stand.

The Kugler Syndicate, mention of which was made a few days ago as being desirous of locating in Greensboro and establishing a 5 and 10 cent store, has leased the store at present occupied by J. M. Hendrix & Co., that firm having arranged to occupy Mr. N. J. McDuffie's elegant new building.

It is said that Mr. Fuller L. Reid will be the manager of the new establishment. He has returned from New York, where he held a position in a wholesale dry goods house.

"CHRISTIAN FAITHFULNESS."

OF THE DOCTRINE OF APOSTASY.

Subject of Rev. Mr. Wagg's Sunday Morning Sermon—The Righteous May Not Only Backslide Partially and be Reclaimed, but He May Apostatize and Die in His Sins—God's Warnings Against This Danger—The Blessings That Follow Perseverance.

One of the strongest sermons, in many respects, preached in Greensboro in a long while was delivered by Rev. T. E. Wagg, pastor of Centenary Methodist church, in his pulpit Sunday morning. The subject was "Christian Faithfulness," and Mr. Wagg's exposition showed much study and great depth of thought.

The text was taken from Revalations 2:10, "Be thou faithful unto death and I will give thee a crown of life." In his introductory remarks the preacher said the Bible abounded in great and precious promises that cheered through every stage of earthly pilgrimage, that threw their brightness across the gulf of death and covered the whole round of endless years.

Speaking of the promise contained in the text, Mr. Wagg said, in part: "We are promised salvation from sin only on condition that we repent of our sins and believe in the Lord Jesus Christ. Now a condition from its very nature implies that the promised blessing may be lost by a failure to meet the condition.

"I am aware that many believe and teach that it is impossible for an individual who has been converted to miss heaven, but if I follow the plain teaching of my text I shall be compelled to exhort you to faithfulness in order to obtain final salvation and warn you against the danger of apostasy. I avoid, as far as possible in my preaching, contraverted points, but this is a doctrine so vitally connected with the spiritual life of the soul that I cannot but raise my voice in a word of warning. And then I do not consider that it is left to my choice whether I warn you against the danger of apostasy, for God, through his prophet Ezekiel, declares that if his "watchman fail to warn the righteous; that if he turneth away from his righteousness and commit iniquity, he shall die; and the righteous man should turn and commit sin he shall die in his sins, and his blood will he require at his watchman's hands.

"I do not intend to be guilty of your blood. For this reason I warn you this day of the great danger of apostasy and being finally lost. The crown is promised only to those who are faithful unto death.

"I wish now to call your attention to some of the plain declarations of the Bible which without doubt teach that one who is endued with the faith that purifies the heart and produces a good conscience may nevertheless so fall from God as to perish everlastingly. They not only declare that the righteous man may backslide partially and be reclaimed before death, but that he may apostatize and die in his sins. Paul declares that he may so far apostatize that it is impossible to renew him again unto salvation. * * * If you will read the fifteenth chapter of John and the twenty-fifth chapter of Matthew, if you are not full of prejudice, you cannot fail to see a warning from the lips of our Lord himself against the danger of apostasy. * * *

"The possibility of apostasy may be argued from the many passages of scripture that clearly imply it. A very large portion of the Bible is addressed to the Christian and is evidently designed to prevent his apostasy and to encourage him to perseverance. The Christian is commanded not to apostatize: 'Wherefore let him that thinketh he standeth, take heed lest he fall.' And then the Bible is full of exhortations and warnings against apostasy, such as 'Take heed lest there be in any of you an evil eye of unbelief,' etc. It will be observed that these passages are to guard us against apostasy, against falling from grace, and I am sure that if there were no danger of sin in the believer we would not be so faithfully warned against it by the inspired penman. * * *

"And then the Christian is promised blessings on the condition of faithfulness, and does not this suppose that he may be unfaithful? Of this our text is an example. * * * Therefore the Christian may fall from grace, and not only so, but so fall as to be finally lost.

"We are probationers, in a state of trial, then I have need every hour to be sober and vigilant. If any day of trial or probation never existed, or ceased when, by faith I took hold on Christ, then indeed there might as well be now, as there is in the grave, no work, nor device, nor knowledge, nor wisdom? But man's probation does not end at conversion. It does not end till death. Man's destiny cannot be certainly fixed while he is in a state of trial and probation, from its very nature, supposes that it is possible that we may either stand or fall.

"Be thou faithful unto death. Faithfulness is admired in any relation of high life. We admire and love a faithful friend. We especially admire the faithfulness of a friend when we alone can be benefited by his faithfulness. We admire the patriot who is faithful to his country's interest, who bravely breasts the storm and is willing to die to save his country's honor * * * Christian soldier, from the throne of eternity the Lord Jehovah, who changes not, and in whose hands are the destinies of men, looks down upon you. May you not prove unfaithful.

"Be faithful in keeping the heart. It should be so kept as to be a temple for God to dwell in. How careful we should be that none of his enemies inhabit it. Keep out the demon of hate, and malice, and anger, and envy. The heart should be a garden where the flowers of virtue bloom and flourish, and where the golden seed of truth is planted and watered by grace and grows and ripens into the blessed fruits of faith, and hope, and chariy. Do not suffer these seeds of such heavenly planting to be choked by such evil seeds as lust and covetousness.

"Be faithful in the discharge of every duty. Read your Bible, regularly, daily and meditate upon its truths. Our faith will be strengthened and our hopes brightened by speaking one with another of our hopes and fears. And above all, do not neglect to pray. When a man begins to neglect his closet devotions he begins to retrograde in religion.

"Be faithful to all the trusts that God has committed to your keeping, remembering that we are but stewards of the manifold grace of God. He has given you talent, or money, or influence, or it may be all of these together, and he has designed that they should be used for the common good. * * * Be faithful to your trusts, remembering that God designs to convert the world by human instrumentality, and he is holding you accountable for a certain portion of this work. * * *

A Kind A. P. Agent.

Charlotte Observer.

The statement in yesterday's dispatches about a barn in a Minnesota town having been raised by a cyclone and dropped on a saloon in which "sixteen person had taken refuge from the storm," was very delicately put, and the families and friends of the dead gentlmen will doubtless thank the Associated Press agent for his neat explanation of why they were there.

The young man makes a terrible blunder who relies for his success on luck instead of hard work.—Rev. Dr. Vosburgh.

Christ's life is the real Christian life. We live the Christian life in the degree that we live like Him.—Rev. J. Titsworth.

We must not depreciate manners of men. Good manners may be said to be the small change of Christian effort. —Rev. M. L. Haines.

The supremacy of the interest of the spiritual life and welfare makes any sacrifice, no matter how great, seem small in comparison to the great good in the end.—Rev. H. A. Gobin.

"Whatsoever a man soweth that shall he also reap." We can take these words as a safe conclusion of what the future shall bring forth. We shall reap in kind what we sow.—Rev. D. A. Blose.

There are two difficulties in the way of the completeness of our faith—the greatness of the truth and the meagerness of our lives. It is so vast, this vision of the unseen, and we are so little, so dwarfed in its touch.—Rev. J. N. Blanchard.

The path Christ pointed out, the heavenward ascent through the soul, is the open door set before us to the highest self-realization. No man can shut it but yourself, for in Him all the rich past centers, all the spiritual potentialities of the race reside. —Rev. Morgan Millar.

TRAINING SCHOOL FOR CUBANS

Plans Made for an Institution at New York Where They Can Be Trained for Missionary Work.

Plans for a training school for Cubans have received the approval of the state board of charities and Justice Hooker, of the supreme court of New York. A certificate of incorporation has been filed in the Kings county clerk's office, Justice Hooker having ordered that it be placed on record. The institution will be known as the Cuban home and training school of New York. The objects will be to establish a home and training school for the care and education of Spanish-speaking children, whether born here or elsewhere, and to fit them for mission work in this and other lands; the school and home to have separate departments for both sexes. Rev. Josiah Strong, of Manhattan, and Rev. J. Howard Fairchild, of Brooklyn, will be at the head of the institution.

Merely a Suggestion.

The Chicago Times-Herald suggests that Dr. Harper might obtain some valuable pointers from Russell Sage concerning the possibilities of living on 15 cents a day.

It doesn't do a man any good to know the ropes if he hasn't got a pull.

A GOOD HOLIDAY INVESTMENT

It was said of John Gilpin, the aldermanic hero of the famous ride from London town to Ware and return, that "though he was on pleasure bent, he had a frugal mind," and this, perforce, is both the mental and financial status of the majority of people, to whom holidays are of rare occurrence, would be robbed of all their unselfish pleasure were not the little ones made participants therein, and in connection with which the hard-earned pennies have to be counted. In this connection the Great Adam Forepaugh and Sells Brothers' aggregation of menageries, circuses and hippodromes, which exhibits in Greensboro on Saturday, October 13, seems to most satisfactorily answer the important question of where to go to to get the most and best entertainment for one's money. The New York Sun tersely and emphatically says that it is "far ahead of the Barnum show," and succeeding to that enterprise's exclusive heritage in Madison Square Garden, it has, to say the least, now for two successive seasons, fully rivaled its popularity and success, and firmly and exclusively established itself in Greater New York's highest favor; thus putting the metropolitan capstone on the wide reputation it has achieved. With Mr. James A. Bailey in Europe to secure for it every foreign feature of genuine rarity and merit, it has constantly added to its attractions, and grown to be something really marvelous in size, variety and quality. Its tents are the biggest ever erected, its parade a prodigal eye-feast of splendors and sensations, its collection of wild beasts and birds unprecedented and its circus and hippodromatic performances the very best that the greatest number of the greatest artists and the most astonishing and amusing trained animals, from stupendous elephants to slippery sea lions and seals, present. It has nineteen celebrated male and female bareback riders, twenty-five most famously funny clowns, and wonderful aerialists, champion acrobats, and other arenic and race course notabilities in full proportion. And, moreover, it is run and managed on the highest plane of propriety, with vigilant consideration for the pleasure, comfort and security of its patrons.

AN ADDRESS TO DEMOCRATS.

URGED TO KEEP UP ORGANIZATION.

Chairman Winston Says the Clubs Are Organized for Effective Campaign Work. Republicans Wish to Vote in the Senatorial Primary — Experiments at State Soil Test Farms—The A. & D. to Build an Extension.

Special Correspondence of The Telegram.

Raleigh, Oct. 2.—A Democrat, who is a member of the State committee, made the exceedingly startling assertion last night that white Republican leaders are actually making an earnest endeavor to get all the white members of their party to vote the Democratic ticket in November in order to cast a vote against Simmons in the primary. He added that the only hitch is in the Eighth and Ninth districts. As to the negro vote he declared that not two-thirds of it would be polled, and that certainly a third of the blacks take no interest whatever in voting.

The State charters the Gilmer Dry Company, of Winston, with $150,000 capital. John L. Gilmer, R. J. Reynolds and others are stockholders.

The experiments which the State will make this fall at its two soil test farms in Robeson and Edgecombe counties, will be of particular interest. The United States Agricultural Department has its agents in all parts of the world securing these plants and seeds, and this State has been given a quantity of these seeds. It has also secured some direct from Ceylon. The seed given by the goverment came from Egypt, Morocco, South and Central America, and Austria, wheat, grasses, etc., and adapted to a hot climate like that of Eastern North Carolina. At each farm ten acres will be in fall oats and the hairy vitch sown together. This vitch is very valuable for forage and as it and the oats ripen together they can be cut at any time. Thirty-five acres will be sown in various grasses and clovers, mainly from other countries, but some from other parts of this county. Fifteen acres will be sown in foreign and domestic varieties of wheat.

The pension lists are now being printed. There are 224 more pensioners than there were last year. The warrants are to be sent out December 15.

The Atlantic and North Carolina Railway has for ten years had in view the plan of building a branch railway to Snow Hill. It will now build it. The cost will, it is said, approximate $75,000, of which Greene county will put up $9,000.

The superintendent of public schools in this county says the schools will reopen October 15, and that by that time the cotton will be all picked. He says some farmers have already finished picking.

The cotton blockade at Wilmington, referred to some days ago, increases instead of diminishing, and there are now 1100 loaded cars on the tracks and sideways.

The public schools in this city have opened with 2,100 pupils enrolled, of whom 1,300 are white. There are two new schools, one white and one colored. All the the other school buildings have been greatly improved.

Charentas, a horse born and bred in this city, was sold last year by a Raleigh man who owned him for $150. The buyer resold him last spring for $6,200, and the horse has won $30,000, or thereabouts, this season. It is the old, old story of North Carolina selling the "crude products" and other people doing the finishing and making the big money. As with many other things, so it is with horses. And by the way a sporting man of this town says that the worst "bug" which bites any one is the "horse bug"—worse even than the cotton future or paper "bugs."

Francis D. Winston, chairman of the State Association of Democratic Clubs, which was formed here September 26th, last night issued an address in which he says:

"The organization, in its working force, has representatives in all parts of the State. The object is to assist in giving Bryan and Stevenson the electoral vote of North Carolina and to help elect nine Democratic Congressmen. To this end all patriotic citizens are cordially invited to co-operate. The platform and principles of the association are found in the platform of the Democratic party promulgated at Kansas City.

"The clubs have no candidates other than those named by Democratic conventions. This association is organized for effective campaign work. The executive committee of the association directs that an urgent appeal be made to the various county and township executive committees to proceed at once to organize clubs in each township in the State. White Supremacy Clubs organized in the late campaign can easily be organized into party clubs. To this end it is urged that the various county chairmen will at once proceed to appoint suitable organizers in their counties who will enter actively in the work. It is recommended that sub-electors for each county be appointed when practicable. Most efficient aid can also be had of the late club organizers. County chairmen are requested to call a meeting in each township in the various counties Saturday, October 13th, for organizing clubs. It is also urged that at each speaking by candidates or other Democrats a club be formed. Do not let the opportunity pass to organize. These clubs are a part of the party machinery and are subject to the party authority. The two main purposes for which they are to be formed are to distribute literature and to bring out a full vote. It is presumed that the last campaign secured full registration.

"As soon as a club is formed send the names of officers to F. M. Simmons, chairman, Raleigh, N. C. Also send a list to Max Ihmsen, national secretary, New York city. Let each club appoint an active committee to secure the attendance of voters at the polls. A full vote will give the Democratic party 50,000 majority. The issues involved are momentous, vital and farreaching. Our free institutions are endangered by the colonial policy abroad and by aggregations of wealth at home. Let North Carolinians make a firm stand against both.

"The State Association adopted as its emblem a button containing a picture of that great tribune of the people, William Jennings Bryan, upon a field of silver, encircled by these burning words from his great speech of accepiance: 'The Man Rather than the Dollar.' In this sentence is contained the true theory of government."

A remark has to be pointed to get into some head.

TUESDAY OCTOBER. 2, 1900.

ONE EXAMPLE OF A TRUST.

Most people have a pretty fair idea of what constitutes a trust, and all have felt the effect of monopolies, either directly or indirectly. Many, however, know but little of the details of the organization and operation of combinations which control the output and price of their products. They simply know that nearly all the necessities and luxuries of life are in the hands of trusts, which name the prices at which they are sold to the people.

A case in point is the spool cotton trust, which has just advanced the price of spool thread 17 per cent., this advance being made possible by the consolidation of the principal thread manufactories in the United States. The Spool Cotton Company and the American Thread Company, both concerns being practically under the same management, have a monopoly of the spool thread business in this country. The former includes the mills established in this country by Englishmen; the latter includes the three principal American mills. About eighteen months ago they were consolidated, and soon after prices were advadced. One advance followed another, and now every housewife and every poor seamstress in the United States is made to pay tribute to this obnoxious trust every time she purchases a spool of thread. Thread which formerly sold at 3 and 4 cents a spool now costs 5 cents, and the retailers are not allowed to charge less.

The two companies above named have a practical monopoly of the entire American market. It is true that there aee a few small competing mills, but they are too weak to affect the trust's control of prices. It may be that the large profits the monopolists are realizing will engender such competition as will cause lower prices, but it is hardly probable that the power of the trust will be broken in this way.

The parent of this trust, and its main element of strength, is the "protective" tariff. Some of the stockholders in the Spool Cotton Company are interested in mills in England, where competition still exists, and as a consequence it is said that spool thread ts sold there at about half what it costs in this country. The deduction is plain.

It would seem that a reduction of the duty would curtail the power of this particular monopoly, but a specific remedy for trusts in general does not appear to be in sight. No feasible plan has been suggested for the extirpation of trusts, and it will most probably be Federal legislation to which the people will be foreed to look.

In giving his reasons for supporting President McKinley for re-election Andrew Carnegie says that during a second term he thinks the party leaders would, in a great measure, lose their influence over him and that he would feel more at liberty to follow the dictates of his own conscience. Undoubtedly there is room for improvement along this line.

The Raleigh Times-Visitor has passed into the hands of a new company and now appears under the name of the Raleigh Times, with Mr. John Wilber Jenkins as editor. We hope to see it develop into the best afternoon paper ever published in the Capital City.

The discussion of the Senatorial question continues to occupy a great deal of space in the State papers. Democrats who would otherwise be lending their united efforts to the task of making North Carolina solid for Bryan and the Congressional candidates are writing and talking for their favorites for Senator, to the exclusion of all other political matters.

The action of Mark Hanna in getting down on his marrow bones and pleading with J. Pierpont Morgan to put an end to the coal strike reminds one of the time in the dim, misty past when the imperial Cæsar exclaimed, "Help me, Cassius, or I sink."

E. Spencer Blackburn, the intrepid Republican aspirant for Congressional honors in the Eighth, takes the trouble to deny that he will retire from the race to make room for Linney or any ons else.

The Washington Post calls attention to the fact that business is so dull in Wall Street that an unusual number of brokers are able to find time to commit suicide.

SAYINGS OF TARHEEL EDITORS.

History is a curious thing. Everybody can tell us how Washington, Jefferson and Lincoln would vote if alive nowadays, but no one seems to know how Cleveland will cast his ballot.—Greenville Reflector.

An Asheville conservatory music teacher announces that "Beginners will be received on the violin." This must be pretty rough on the violin.—Raleigh Times.

Its fashionable just now to publish election forecasts furnished by rainbow chasers. We prefer to wait a little.—Winston Journal.

Good taste was rather stretched when Congressman Hitt, of Illinois, declared the American flag to be a land fertilizer. We never noticed that sort of a scent about the Stars and Stripes.—Durham Sun.

The educational spirit is growing. That is one of the encouraging signs of the times.—Henderson Gold Leaf.

In these times of changes in politicians and their creeds it is taking an unfair advantage of a man to fish up his record of four or five years ago. Two years should be the limit.—Durham Herald.

This Senatorial race is among Democrats, and every Democrat is fully entitled to courtesy and respect, no matter which candidate of the four he may select as his preference.—Newbern Journal.

We are glad to see once more the familiar features of our old friend Lydia E. Pinkham in some of the state press.—Asheville Citizen.

Eagles seem to be plentiful in North Carolina from the reports in the papers of their appearance in different sections of the State. The kind we are mostly interested in are found on little round pieces of silver, and this specie of eagle can fly pretty fast, too, and are hard to catch.—Durham Sun.

Lieutenant Jones' Nerve.

"The nerviest act I know of," said a Kansas man while discussing the world's brave deeds, "was performed by Lieutenant Jones of the company of marines that took John Brown at Harper's Ferry. Robert E. Lee had advanced his 90 marines in a semicircle about the armory in which Brown and his men had taken refuge. Then Lieutenant Jones stepped out and commenced to read the riot act to the men behind the armory walls, and, though they kept shooting at him, his voice never wavered, nor did he show any other sign of trepidation. I was in that company of marihes."—Kansas City Journal.

Hailed.

"Does that young woman hail from Boston?"

"Yes," answered the youth thoughtfully; "that expresses the idea precisely. She hails from Boston. I was never before overtaken by such a heavy downfall of intellectual ice."—Washington Star.

Sleepless.

Blobbs—Why don't you consult a doctor about your insomnia?

Slobbs—What! And run up more bills? Why, it's because of what I owe him now that I can't sleep.

CARL DUNDER'S SAYINGS.

A Wholesome Combination of Fun and Philosophy.

[Copyright, 1900, by C. B. Lewis.]

Some people vhas born dot way und can't help it. Last week my brudder-in-law goes oudt in der woods to kill a rabbit. He doan' find no rabbits, but he kills a fox und den comes home und kicks about his hard luck.

In my time I haf caught some fish dot weighed 20 pounds apiece, but dot doan' satisfy me. I vhas always mourning after dose fish which weighed 22 pounds apiece und got avhay from me.

I haf had men pick my pockets, und I haf had friends borrow my money, und I can't quite figure out why der pickpocket should be sent to jail und der odder party go free. It vhas all der same to me—I got nothing back.

If a man comes to me und doan' say nottings, mebbe he gets feefty cents, but if a man comes to me und says he vhas a squar' man und can't sleep nights if he doan' pay his debts I shust walk off und leave him to talk mit der gatepost.

Der man who calls me oop at midnight to tell me dot my henhouse door vhas open thinks to do me a favor, but if he vhas a philosopher he would see dot if der door vhas open some thief must haf taken der fowls, und of what use to break oop my sleep? It vhas better for all of us dot we stop a leetle.

You vhill always find men who vhas in troubles because of not knowing a good thing when it vhas put at dem. I once offered a thief $2 in cash to keep avhay from my chickens, but one night he goes to steal an old rooster worth feefty cents und vhas lamed for life mit a charge of buckshot.

Nopody can depend upon der pooblic. Vhen I vhas an honest aldermans, eaferybody believes I vhas dishonest und make ten t'ousand dollars out of some shobs. Vhen I goes by der legislature und makes $20,000 in one day, der people hurrahed for me und called me "Dot Honest Dootchmans."

One night Mrs. Dunder wakes me oop und says a burglar vhas in der hous.

"Vhell, how vhas it?" I says.

"You must drive him out."

"Dot vhas no policy. If I drive him out, he comes back some other night. If I let him look aroundt und find nottings to steal, he not only walks avhay by himself, but he feels it vhas no use to come again."

Protecting the Trees.

A beginning has been made with forestry in the United States. New York has adopted measures to protect the headwaters of the Hudson. In the Adirondack park 2,500,000 acres are reserved, of which 1,000,000 is owned by the state, as much more is in private game preserves and the remainder in the hands of those who will sell to the state when they can get their price. Cornell and Yale conduct practical schools of forestry.—Little Chronicle.

IMPORTANT!

Greensboro, N. C., Sept. 26th, 1900.

TO OUR CUSTOMERS:

On and after October 15th, 1900, we, the undersigned, will do a strictly cash business. Our reasons are as follows:

1st. Absolute NECESSITY.

2nd. Laundry, the world over, is a recognized cash business and justly so.

3rd. Our accounts are necessarily small, and it causes an endless amount of confusion and expense to collect, besides losses each year in bad bills.

4th. All of our current expenses, such as labor, fuel, gas and supplies are cash, hence the stand we take is forced upon us. While we very much regret, in most cases, to exact the spot cash, yet we must treat all alike, and we see no other way out of the difficulty. We trust our customers will lend us their aid by stating when to return laundry and by being prepared to pay for same when delivered. Our drivers will have positive instructions to return to the laundry all packages not paid for.

We have on sale at office (for cash) coupon books from $1 to $5 which can be left at convenient place at home, so that on delivery of bundle the amount of laundry bill can be torn out by the driver.

VERY RESPECTFULLY,

GREENSBORO STEAM LAUNDRY, Jno. M. Dick, Proprietor, | GATE CITY STEAM LAUNDRY, W. A. Fields, Proprietor.

ROBBED THE GRAVE.

A startling incideat, of which Mr John Oliver, of Philadelphia, was the subject, is narrated by him as follows; "I was in a most dreadful condition tion. My skin was almost yellow, eyes sunken, tongue coated, pain continually in back and sides; no appetite—gradually growing weaker day by day. Three physicians had given me up. Fortunately, a friend advised trying Electric Bitters: and to my great joy and surprise, the first bottle made a decided improvement. I continued their use for three weeks and am now a well man. I know they saved my life, and robbed the grave of another victim." No one should fail to try them. Only 50 cents per bottle at C. E. Holton's drug store.

OWNS ITS RAILROAD.

Glasgow Operates Street Car Lines Successfully.

How Municipal Ownership Works in the Scotch City—Over $600,000 Cleared Last Year—Employes Number 3,400.

"Glasgow's street car system is owned and operated by the city under the direct supervision of a committee of the town council," says Consul Taylor at Glasgow. "The gross capital expenditures for the system since 1894, independent of operating expenses, have been $5,164,975, and the present indebtedness is $4,061,806. The capital invested is $4,559,502. Of the 41 miles of double track, five miles have electric traction, the rest being operated by horses. The total receipts of the system during the year were $2,286,850. The working expenses were $1,676,412, leaving a balance of $610,438, of which there were expended some $84,000 for interest on capital, $57,501 for sinking fund, $156,096 for depreciation of stock.

"One item of $60,000 consists of payments made to the general revenue fund of the city, which is in lieu of the amount which the city would receive in taxes, it is presumed, were the system operated by a private company. The balance goes into the reserve fund.

"There are 3,400 persons employed, including 100 clerks. The general manager receives $6,800; the chief engineer, $2,400; the electrical engineer, $2,000; and the mechanical engineer, who has charge of the power station, $1,216. Point boys receive 28 cents per day; trace boys from 40 to 52 cents per day; car cleaners from 88 cents to $1 per day; drivers, conductors and motormen from $1 to $1.12 per day. These rates apply to Sunday and week days alike. The rolling stock consists of 384 horse cars, 132 electric cars, 17 omnibuses, 39 lorries, and numerous carts, wagons and vans. There are 4,411 horses. Fares range from one cent for the first half-mile to two cents for a mile; the longest ride is six miles, costing six cents. No transfers are issued, and tickets are not used."

SUMMER GIRLS ARE HELPFUL

Two Score or More at Rockaway Beach Aid Firemen in Hauling Truck to a Fire.

The sprightly summer girl came out in a new role at Rockaway Beach, New York, the other day. Shortly after midnight two alarms rang, and the nine volunteer hose companies at the beach started on a run for the Rockaway Beach Gas Light company's buildings, which were ablaze. Only four of the members of the Oceana hose responded for duty, but they bravely tackled the job of hauling the heavy truck down the boulevard. They had gone but a few hundred yards when they were ready to drop from exhaustion.

A crowd of young women in front of the Seaside house noticed the predicament of the Oceana company.

"Come on, girls," shouted a pretty young woman in a superb evening gown, running out to the truck and catching hold of the lines. Her example was followed by twoscore girls, who ran with the truck to the scene of the fire and bravely assisted in adjusting the hose for business.

BULLDOG AND LYNX FIGHT.

Desperate Battle Between Terrier and Wild Cat Witnessed by 600 People.

A bulldog and a wildcat fought to the death at Oxnard, in Santa Barbara county, Cal., while 600 men, women and children looked on and cheered. The contestants were an immense lynx, said to have come from Mendocino county, and a bull terrier from Santa Barbara county. The fight was managed by Oxnard. The whole town was behind the cat, while dozens of visitors backed the pup.

The animals fought in an arena made of wire netting, and around it the big crowd gathered, while from neighboring windows and housetops women witnessed the battle. At the first attack the cat cut a deep gash in the dog's neck, but the latter caugth his foe's hind leg and crushed the bones. For 36 minutes they fought, and then the lynx lay still in death, with the dog panting by its side. The crowd cheered and took up a collection to buy the victor a collar.

QUESTIONS ANSWERED.

Yes, August Flower still has the largest sale of any medicine in the civilized world. Your mothers and grandmothers never thought of using anything else for indigestion or biliousness. Doctors were scarce, and they seldom heard of appendicitis, nervous prostration or heart failure, etc. They used August Flower to clean out the system and stop fermentation of undigested food, regulate the action of the liver, stimulate the nervous and organic action of the system, and that is all they took when feeling dull and bad with headaches and othaches. You only need a few doses of Green's August Flower, in liquid form, to moke you satisfied there is nothing serious the matter with you. For sale by Grissom & Fordham.

WINE OF CARDUI

THE LINK THAT BINDS.

JACKSON, TENN., Nov. 23. I was subject to miscarriage for three years, and suffered constantly with backache. I wrote to you for advice, and after using three bottles of Wine of Cardui, according to your directions, I am strong and well, and the mother of a fine girl baby. Mrs. E. N. JOWERS.

McELREE'S Wine of Cardui

There is no use talking—a baby in the house is the link that binds husband and wife together. Nothing is sadder than fruitless wedlock. The prattling and cooing of the little ones offset a thousand times the occasional worries and trials of life. When a wife is barren, there is a derangement somewhere in the genital organs, caused by one or more of those common disorders known as "female troubles". Wine of Cardui is the remedy. It puts the organs of generation in a strong and healthy condition, fitting the wife for the sacred duty of reproducing her kind. During the period of gestation the entire system of the expectant mother is built up to withstand the ordeal of labor, and when the little one makes its advent it is lusty and strong, well-fitted to grow to maturity in perfect health. The mother, too, passes through the trial with little pain and no dread. Wine of Cardui is truly a wonderful medicine for women.

CALIFORNIA LEMONS.

Four Million Dollars Wasted in Growing and Curing.

The Principal Growers Had to Send Experts to Spain and Italy to Learn the Business Properly.

"The prejudice which existed until quite recently in this counutry against the domestic grown lemon is fast disappearing and American consumers of the fruit are beginning to appreciate the fact that as fine lemons can now be obtained from southern California as ever came from Mediterranean ports," remarked a wholesale fruit merchant in New York to a Washington Star writer the other day. "Indeed, as far as shape, size, pungency and good keeping qualities are concerned the California product has within the past four years become a dangerous rival of the best Italian and Spanish fruit. The annual consumption of lemons in the United States amounts to about 5,000,000 boxes. In 1896 Italy and Spain supplied us with 4,700,000 boxes of lemons and 300,000 boxes were grown in California. Last year there were imported from Mediterranean countries 3,800,000 boxes of lemons and 1,200,000 boxes of the fruit came from the Pacific coast. This year the importation of lemons will be considerably smaller than ever before, and, providing the present high standard of the California fruit is maintained, the growers of the state will in the course of a few seasons succeed in driving the Mediterranean lemons from our markets, just as they have driven out the foreign prunes and raisins.

"While lemons have been grown in southern California for over a hundred years, the cultivation of the fruit as a commercial industry dates only from 1882. In that year the first grove was started on a large scale at Riverside with the intention of producing fruit to compete in the eastern markets with that imported from Italy and Spain. The zeal for lemon growing soon spread to Pomona valley, to Santa Barbara, Ventura, Ontario and Pasadena, where the growers, in trying to make the cultivation of the fruit a profitable industry, met with a great many discouragements and failures for the first half dozen years.

"The trees grew and bore some excellent fruit, but while it was found that a shapely, thin-skinned and juicy lemon could be produced on the trees, it was found a difficult task to cure the fruit so that it would not only not rot and show blemishes, but would retain its pungency and oiliness of peel, as well as its full acid juiciness, from the picking season in winter until the following summer, when it was wanted by the consumer.

"The art of curing lemons was only properly learned by the Californians in 1897, when the principal lemon growers clubbed together and sent experts over to Italy and Spain to learn the business, and now they are producing excellent results. To make the lemons sour they are picked before they begin to turn yellow. The fruit is then put in a curing house, where it is kept at a temperature of about 50 degrees for some 20 days, which 'sweats out' all the sugar. It is then removed to another temperature for 60 days more before it is ready for the market. Thus the highest degree of acid and the largest degree of juice is obtained. One of the curious effects of this 'sweating process is to reduce the thickness of the skin. It originally grows thick and tough, but the acid seems to eat it up. Rough estimates put the capital invested in California in growing and curing lemons with all the appurtenances at $4,500,000.

"The person whose knowledge of lemons is limited to an occasional purchase of a dozen will be surprised to learn that there are 17 distinct varieties grown in California and Florida. These differ in size, shape, quality and skin and in keeping qualities! But there are only four varieties that have any popularity in California and in eastern markets. These are the Eureka, Lisbon, Villa France and Bonnie Brae."

LOST IN A GREAT CAVE.

Note Found in a Bottle Purporting to Be from Hopeless Wanderer.

While Will Russell, a son of Chief of Police Frank Russell, of Bedford, Ind., and two other young men, named Orin Scisco and Nester Stevenson, were exploring a cave on the farm of a man named Kern, 1½ miles southwest of Bedford, the other day, they discovered a mysterious note, which, if true, reveals the awful death of an unknown man.

After going quite a distance back in the cave, which is said to be about three miles in extent, a bottle was discovered at the top of a high precipice in an indentation in the rocks, and was held in place by mud which had been daubed around it. The bottle contained a note, which read as follows:

"Have been lost here since Sunday, December 20, 1896. It is now 10:25 p. m., December 25. Am hungry and last oil all gone.
"JAKE OLDEN, Lincoln, Neb."

On the back of the note was written: "Tell my friends I died happy.
"JAKE."

The bottle was of a quart size and had contained coal oil, as the note was saturated with it.

The young men made a thorough search for anything that might lead to an explanation of the mystery, but they were unable to go beyond the precipice upon which the bottle was found. The depth of the declivity seemed to be about 50 feet, and water could be plainly heard falling in the depths below.

On May 13, 1894, James Corbin and Martin Hansford undertook to explore this cave and were lost through their light going out, and it was only after many hours of hard labor and perseverance that they regained the entrance.

Whether the note was written by some one who was really lost or as a joke is a mystery, but it is certainly possible that one could enter this great cave and become lost. A search will be made again during the coming week, when an attempt will be made to descend the precipice where the bottle was found.

KING OSCAR'S LITTLE JOKE.

Greets Cordially American Visitors to the Palace as "Fellow Monarchs."

The friends of Mr. and Mrs. George F. Baldwin, of Chicago, have just heard of a pleasant experience which they had in Stockholm recently and which exhibits the true courtesy of King Oscar of Sweden. While sightseeing in Stockholm they visited the royal palace and were charmed with its beauty and dignity. They had reached the floor on which King Oscar's private suite is situated when they were stopped by an attendant, who told them they would have to wait, as the king was there, but was about to take a drive, when the apartments would be open. As they waited in the corridor a royal carriage drew up at the foot of the staircase. A moment later the king appeared in the uniform of an admiral.

THE WEATHER.

For North Carolina: Rain tonight and Wednesday; fresh northeast winds.

Highest temperature for Greensboro for the past twenty-four hours ending eight o'clock this morning 78, lowest, 66; rainfall, .02.

HEARD ON THE STREETS.

Things People are Talking of and Incidents Observed.

Gentry's dog and pony show is heading this way. It will exhibit in Greensboro next Thursday.

The town is being billed for Sparks' Show, which exhibits at the Fair grounds next Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

Some of the Federal Court visitors find much pleasure in gazing upon the flaming circus pictures to be found on the billboards.

Mr. W. S. Hill, who went to Philadelphia to have his eye treated some days ago, is getting along very nicely. He will probably return home within a few days.

It required three coaches on the train from Winston at noon today to bring the Federal Court attendants from Forsyth, Stokes and the "State of Wilkes."

Mr. Frank W. Hanes, of Yadkin county, was today sworn in as a practicing attorney in the Federal Court, the oath being administered by Judge W. P. Bynum.

Mr. Roscoe Ward did not accompany either Mr. Lyndon Hall or his bride to Reidsville Sunday, nor did he have anything to do with securing the license.

Federal Court has brought the usual number of oily-tongued fakirs who stand around the court house and excite the wonder of the citizens from the mountain counties.

The South Greensboro Y. W. C. T. U. will meet at the home of Mrs. Lee Blair, 633 Asheboro street, tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock. All the members and other interested young ladies are requested to be present.

People who travel in a sleeping car know how confusing are those two long lines of curtains, and how they are often brought to grief by getting into the wrong berth. Some of these mistakes will be illustrated at the Academy of Music next Tuesday night.

It is seldom one hears any music gotten out of a mandolin, but Dr. Willard, who has recently located in our city, is a professional mandolin player and is an artist. Our people will have the opportunity of hearing him at the Academy of Music next Tuesday night.

'Squire J. M. Wolfe has a communication in today's Charlotte Observer on the Senatorial question. He thinks a choice between the four distinguished candidates is rather difficult, but figures it out that the honor belongs to Gen. Carr.

From Mosquito Mission.

Some of the proceedings of the ecumenical conference, recently held in New York, were marked by humor. A member of one of the audiences rose in his place at the end of a speech, and asked for the attention of those present. The presiding officer thought that a missionary was about to speak, and asked:

"From what outpost do you come?"

"I am from Jersey City," replied the man from the audience—perhaps from inability to hear the exact words of the question.—N. Y. Tribune.

The Split of Discontent.

Weary William—De courts are run in de interests o' de rich. Us fellers don't stand no show at all.

Count De Ties—Dat's right! When odder chaps gets hurt on de railroad de company pays 'em fer de damages. When us fellers gets hurt dey usually promotes de brakeman.—Puck.

BUSINESS ENTERPRISE

Enterprise is essential to success in any undertaking. The people recognize the fact that they will obtain the fullest satisfaction by dealing with the merchant, manufactuer, professional or other man who is known for the energy which he puts into his business. There is no other way by which evidence of enterprise can be given as well as by newspaper advertising.
